ARGUE DEMURRER IN CONTEST CASE

Attorneys For Jerry McOsker Declared That Proceedings Were Begun in Wrong Court.

MANY ATTORNEYS EMPLOYED

Counsel For Goecker Contend That Suit Was Properly Brought Under Law of 1909.

The case of William Goecker to contest the election of Jerry McOsker to the office of county sheriff, was called in the circuit court at 1 o'clock this afternoon when the attorneys began their arguments upon the demurrer filed by McOsker, the contestee. The demurrer to the specifications were filed upon the grounds that it should have been filed in the circuit court. There is quite an array of attorneys on both sides and the case is being fought hard. McOsker is represented by Koehenour & Prince, Frank Branaman and Seba A. Barnes, while the attorneys for Goecker are Judge O. H. Montgomery, Judge John M. Lewis and Frank S. Jones.

Mr. Barnes opened the argument for the contestee. He argued that the case should have been brought before the circuit court and that as it was filed before the commissioners it should be dismissed.

The attorneys for Goecker argued that the recount law has been repealed, and that there was no error in filing before the commissioners an action to contest the election of McOsker. They base their contention upon the law which was passed in 1909, which they say repealed the recount law of 1881.

By the recount law of 1881 it was provided that all ballots should be preserved, but this law, it is stated, was repealed by the law of 1889 which established the Australian ballot system which is now used. This law provided that all ballots, except those which were contested or mutilated, would be burned immediately after the count was made by the election board.

It is further argued that the law of 1909 amended the law of 1889 so as to require the preservation of all used and protested ballots. The last election was the first one in which all of the ballots were preserved.

The case was heard before the board of commissioners several months ago, but the commissioners held that they only had authority to order the mutilated and protested ballots counted. These were opened and upon a recount each of the contestants were given four votes, which did not change the result. McOsker won the election by a plurality of 13 votes.

The attorneys for the contestee urge that the case was properly filed before the commissioners and that either party had the right to appeal to the circuit court.

The arguments continued until the court closed this afternoon.

DIXON TASTES TROUBLE

Congressman From Fourth District Gets Into Big Politics.

A Washington dispatch this morning has the following story regarding Congressman Lincoln Dixon of this district.

As the time approaches when the Ways and Means Committee will be called upon to select the standing committees of the House, Representative Dixon of Indiana, is getting a taste of what trouble really is. Mr. Dixon is a member of the tariff framing committee, which also is the committee that has charge of the distribution of the political "pap." Naturally he is a much-sought individual.

Dixon was regarded as a past master in Indiana politics before he came to Washington, but politics in Indiana he finds, is a mild occupation as compared with the fierce wire-pulling that is going on for places on the standing committees of the House of Representatives. Every one of the prize committee assignments is sought by scores of candidates and every candidate has scores of his friends "operating" upon Mr. Dixon by personal appeals, long distance telephone, telegraph and the slower process of Uncle Sam's mails. Dixon is not willing to admit that he is sick of his job, but he wears a tired and faded look.

F. L. BARKLEY RELEASED.

Was Held in Japala, Mexico, for Over Four Months.

Word has been received here that Frank L. Barkley, a conductor on a railroad in Mexico has been released from jail in Japala, where he had been held for over four months on the charge of shooting a drunken fireman who he attempted to put off his train. Mr. Barkley formerly lived here and was a conductor on the B. & O. S-W. He is the brother of George Barkley, formerly of this city, now of Cincinnati.

The friends of Mr. Barkley were greatly interested in his case, as it was known that he was acting within the scope of his duty when the shooting took place. The fireman was employed upon the engine, and was so intoxicated that Mr. Barkley did not consider it safe for him to continue the trip. He ordered him to leave the engine, whereupon the fireman kicked him about the chest and face, injuring him painfully. In order to protect himself, the conductor drew his revolver and fired at the fireman, but did not fatally wound him. Barkley was immediately placed in jail, and was held for four months before his friends knew where he was.

The jails in Mexico are kept in a horrible condition, and as they have very little system of providing for trials, Mr. Barkley was in danger of being kept there for several years before he could receive a hearing. His friends provided him with supplies while he was in the jail.

SCARLET FEVER CIRCULAR PUT OUT

By Indiana State Board of Health.

—Many Copies Have Been Distributed in Seymour.

BY LOCAL BOARD OF HEALTH

Instructions Should Be Carefully Read.—Much Valuable Information is Given the Public.

Under the conditions existing at present in Seymour the health circular issued by the State Board of Health regarding scarlet fever is of interest here and should be generally read. It says in part regarding the sanitary features:

1. Scarlet Fever is a dangerous contagious disease. One attack usually prevents subsequent attacks. It usually attacks children under ten, but adults sometimes have it.

2. It may be conveyed from the body of a person afflicted, by contact, by infected clothing, dishes or any article, or by the discharges. The disease may be communicated from a person recovering so long as the usual scaling of the skin continues, sometimes lasting seventy or eighty days. The poison may remain in clothing for years, especially if packed away.

3. Mild cases are as much to be feared as severe attacks, so far as communication is concerned.

4. The discharges from the throat, nose and mouth, from the skin, eyes, kidneys and bowels are dangerous for a considerable time.

5. Filth, uncleanness and imperfect ventilation increase the danger of spreading and make recovery more difficult.

6. After exposure, a susceptible person will develop the disease in from one to fourteen days.

7. During the existence of Scarlet Fever in a community, all cases of sore throat, with fever, are to be looked upon with suspicion.

8. If a child who has not previously had Scarlet Fever, should be exposed, it should be carefully watched two weeks. Upon the first symptoms of shivering, lassitude, headache, frequent pulse, hot, dry skin, flushed face, furred tongue, with much thirst, and loss of appetite, the child should immediately be separated as completely as possible from other members of the household and all other persons, until a physician has seen it. All persons known to be sick with this disease should be promptly isolated.

The prevention control and suppression of the disease, the circular states is accomplished through isolation of sick, rigid quarantine of those exposed and thorough disinfection. When the disease prevails the public is warned against going to public meetings of any kind or allowing children to roam the streets. It says further, supply good, nourishing food to children, and give them plenty of fresh air.

Do not go into a house where there is Scarlet Fever, or come in contact with any person who has entered the house.

Do not eat or drink in the same room with the sick person, if Scarlet Fever is in the house, and do not let any one else use the same cup, plate, etc. used by the sick until they are thoroughly boiled in water.

Do not expose children to Scarlet Fever in any way. When grown people are obliged to go into the room of a person who has the disease they should bathe and change their clothing before they go where children are.

Do not let children use a privy in which the discharges from Scarlet Fever patients are thrown.

Do not let any article handled by patient, be taken from the house.

Do not permit children to live in the house where Scarlet Fever exists, if possible.

Do not permit cats, dogs, canary birds or other pets to remain in a room where a person has Scarlet Fever, for animals may easily carry it.

As to sanitary management of Scarlet Fever the circular says:

It is difficult to determine in the beginning whether sickness is Scarlet Fever. If the disease exists in neighborhood, take it for granted that when any one has sore throat, foul breath and fever, it is Scarlet Fever and call a physician.

If possible, persons sick with Scarlet Fever should be placed in a large, light, airy room. Remove carpets, curtains, and all articles not needed. Heat with open fire, if possible, and give patient abundance of fresh air, night and day.

Clean rags should be used to absorb discharges from the mouth and nose of patient, and should be immediately burned. Keep a quart of strong solution of chlorinated lime in vessel. When the patient uses vessel keep it closed for one-half hour then empty it and put in another quart of lime solution.

All clothing, sheets, and other cloth articles should, before taken from the room, be put into a pail or tub half filled with a solution of chlorinated lime. Then take out soon and boil for at least twenty minutes.

If the house is small and the patient can not be isolated, no member of the family should leave the yard without changing clothes and washing hands and face with carbolic soap.

All the clothing of the sick person should be disinfected before it is worn again. After recovery or death articles which have come in contact with patient, together with room and contents, should be disinfected according to physician's directions.

ASSESSORS BEGAN WORK.

This is Year For Placing Valuation Upon Real Estate.

The assessors began the work this morning of assessing personal property and real estate. The task will be more difficult than usual this year as it is the time when the real estate is assessed. This is done every fourth year, while the personal property is assessed each spring.

The deputy assessors, who were appointed, have obtained their blanks and supplies and will be busy for several weeks. An effort is being made to equalize the assessment of real estate as much as possible. For many articles of personal property the assessors are furnished a schedule, and this is followed closely.

"DRY" VICTORIES AROUSE INTEREST

Temperance Forces in Seymour Are Considering Advisability of Another Election.

TIME WILL EXPIRE APRIL 26

Opinion as to Result of Second Election Divided Because of Present Conditions.

The victories of the "drys" in the recent local option elections in Bedford, Mitchell and several other cities seem to be an incentive to many of the temperance people of Seymour to call an election here before the expiration of the two years' period for which the city was voted "dry" under the county option measure. Unless an election is held and the city is voted "dry" the saloons may open for business again after April 26.

Until the returns from these elections were heard, it was generally conceded by the temperance forces that an election would be useless as the city voted "wet" at the previous election, and the entire township gave a majority of 303 in favor of the saloons. Under the provisions of the Proctor law the city would be a separate unit from any other part of the township or county, and as it voted "wet" before it would under all probability go the same way again. The saloon forces believe that even a greater majority would be given in favor of the open saloon again than was recorded two years ago. They declare that about as much liquor has been sold in Seymour since the law went into effect as there was before, and that the conditions are much more deplorable. They say that the people will be willing to get rid of the soft drink joints, as many of them are openly violating the law, and that more boys are sold liquor now than when the open saloon was here.

The temperance forces, on the other hand, say that the law has not been a failure, but the present condition is due largely to the lack of law enforcement. They assert that if the places which are selling liquor unlawfully were closed and the provisions of the option law obeyed, there would be no question about the city voting to prohibit the open saloon as the city would be in a much more prosperous condition than with the open saloon.

One prominent "dry" advocate said that if the people who voted "dry" in the election in 1909 had demanded that the law be enforced he was confident that the city would vote "dry" at another election. As this had not been done, however, he declared that he had some doubts of the advisability of calling a second election, as the "wet" element would have some forceful arguments to present during the campaign. He pointed out, however, that although the liquor laws have been openly violated during the past two years, the city was in a better condition now than with the open saloon, as they violated the law to about the same extent as the "blind tigers" do.

It is understood that there are between twenty and thirty men who are contemplating engaging in the saloon business, should a law be passed so that the number will not be limited. Under the present measure the number of saloons is limited to one for the first five hundred inhabitants and one for each additional thousand. According to that ratio Seymour would be entitled to seven saloons. It seems, however, that this measure will be repealed before the session adjourns, and that the number of saloons will not be limited, and very few, if any, restrictive measures will be enacted.

MANY YOUNG FARMERS

Leaving For The West To Work During Summer.

During the last few weeks a large number of young farmers from Jackson county have been leaving for the western states where they will be employed on the farms during the summer months. Each spring for the past few years, they have been spending their summers in the west, and many of them returned again this year. They say that they are offered good wages by the farmers in those states and that they find it more profitable to work there even though they pay their own traveling expenses.

The farmers in the western states find it difficult to employ a sufficient number of men to take care of the crops during the harvest season and they offered good inducements to young men of other states to help them. The farmers here, however, often find it almost impossible to employ men to assist them, and last year offered practically the same wages as the farmers in the west paid. The younger men seem to enjoy the trip and their experience in the new country, and many of them locate there after a short trial.

LITTLE CHANCE FOR WALSH

Friends Have Given up Hope of Securing Pardon.

It seems that John R. Walsh, the aged banker and former owner of the Southern Indiana Railroad, will not be successful in obtaining a pardon from President Taft.

President Taft, like his predecessor, Col. Roosevelt, is disposed to go slow in granting pardons to persons convicted of violating the national banking laws. The office of controller of the currency, which has charge of national banks, is strongly opposed to pardons in cases of this character unless it is established beyond controversy that the applicant would live but a short time in prison. In the case of Mr. Walsh that fact, if it be a fact, has not yet been established to the satisfaction of the authorities here. Mr. Walsh will be eligible next fall for a parole, if the Parole Board sees fit to give it to him. The next move of his friends probably will be to wait and lay his case before the Parole Board.

COMMISSIONER APPOINTED

Case of B. J. Barringer vs. Rosa Fry, et al., in Circuit Court.

The case of Burton J. Barringer vs. Rosa Fry et al., in which the plaintiff asked for the appointment of a commissioner to divide certain real estate owned by Daniel Barringer, deceased, was tried in the circuit court Tuesday. The parties to the suit are the children of the late Daniel Barringer, of Vernon township. The defendants in the suit contended that Mr. Barringer had made an advancement of $800 to the plaintiff, while he contends that the advancement only amounts to $200. After hearing the evidence Judge Shea decided in favor of the plaintiff. J. A. Cox, of Crothersville, represented the interests of the plaintiff, and Koehenour and Prince of Brownstown were the attorneys for the defendants.

Jerry McOsker was appointed commissioner to divide the property.

CANADIAN BAIT FOR AMERICAN FARMERS

Specious Efforts to Colonize Enough Vacant Land in the United States to Sustain Them in the Climate of Labrador. 50,000,000.

By JAMES A. EDGERTON.

IN some American newspapers are appearing advertisements and reading notices designed to lure our farmers into Canada. Presumably this stuff is paid for. It is hard to understand why anybody would publish it for any other reason. That gives to the whole transaction a certain fine old Benedict Arnold flavor. Arnold was paid also. He only tried to sell a fort to the British, however. The purpose here seems to be to sell American citizens to the British. The probability is that this kind of treason will fail as signally as did the other. It was exposure that finished Arnold's little scheme. Perhaps the same method will help in the present case.

It is easy to understand why the Canadian government should try to induce people to settle on its lands. Every one it can so procure is an asset. He becomes a producer and a taxpayer. It is a little harder to see why any American newspaper or syndicate of papers should be unpatriotic enough to print the matter prepared by the Canadian government to further this purpose, even though paid straight advertising rates for the space, since each American farmer induced to go to Canada because of these advertisements means the loss of a subscriber and a corresponding loss to the merchants with whom the paper does business and to the community in which it is published. The hardest thing of all to comprehend, however, is why any American farmer should be misled by this advertising and press agent material into going into a frozen and sparsely settled wilderness and into renouncing the stars and stripes for the British flag.

American Acres Still Available.

There are still millions of acres of land open to entry in the United States. Outside of the reservations there is the enormous expanse of 711,986,409 acres. If Alaska be excluded, and that is fully as desirable as some of this Canadian land, there are still 343,971,674 acres in the United States proper that are open for entry. Allowing 160 acres to a farm, this gives room for 2,149,823 families. If forty acres be allowed to each farm there would be space for four times as many, or nearly 10,000,000 families, approximately 50,000,000 people. This is outside of the forest and other reservations, much of the land on which is open for settlement on easy terms. Uncle Sam still has plenty of soil for his people, plenty to hold comfortably twice as many as now inhabit his domain.

This land still open for entry is scattered all the way from Florida to California and from Minnesota to the gulf. The constant spread of irrigation is bringing thousands of acres into profitable small farms where as much can be made from an acre as from five acres in many other sections. Before these life giving streams the so called American desert is disappearing. Outside of the reclamation belt there are veritable empires of desirable lands awaiting entry. Minnesota alone has more than 1,500,000 acres, Nebraska has nearly 2,000,000 acres, Oregon contains 17,580,573 acres, Washington has 3,196,050, South Dakota 4,562,804 acres, North Dakota 4,410,225, Arkansas and Florida each has about 500,000 acres, Alabama, Kansas, Louisiana, Michigan, Mississippi, Oklahoma and Missouri each has smaller amounts, while Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, Utah and Wyoming each has immense tracts ranging from 20,000,000 to nearly 60,000,000 acres.

Fertile Land For Settlers.

Nor is all of this land arid even without irrigation. Very much of it is fertile, but heretofore it has been distant from railroads and therefore has not been taken. Much of it can be tilled by dry farming. The surface of some of these immense states has scarcely been scratched. In addition there is the empire of Texas. The Texas lands belong to the state itself, but are open to entry on much the same terms as the government lands elsewhere. Aside from the land open to entry, there are millions of farms already taken which can be purchased at figures that would make them profitable to farmers with a little cash and plenty of energy.

With the reign of high prices and the movement toward the cities there is no nation on earth offering such opportunities to the farmer as the United States. All these millions in the cities must be fed. The constant cry is that there is not enough produced on the farms. The population of the nation is increasing at the rate of more than 2,000,000 per year, and most of it is in the cities. These added mouths mean an increased market and more prosperity for the farmer. There never has been a time in our history when the farmer had more reason to stay at home than now. Here is where the people live and where they are going to live in ever increasing numbers. Why, there are practically abandoned farms in many of the eastern states that in the hands of enterprising farmers could be made to yield fortunes.

What advantages has Canada compared to all this to induce a sane man to forsake his American citizenship and live in a polar climate? It is remote from market, the lands left for homesteaders are mostly distant from railroads, which increases the difficulty of marketing and consequently lowers prices, and, more serious still, to all the other hardships of pioneering is added the rigorous cold of the long Canadian winter. There are desirable portions of Canada no doubt, but these have already been taken. The country is as old as our own, and really choice farming lands are no longer open. One can imagine the Dominion as an ideal country in which to raise furs and chibblains, but for crops it is too frostbitten, raw and distant from the center of things. Better fifty years of Europe than a cycle of Cathay!

National Patriotism Involved.

Better one good crop year under the rippling folds of the American flag than a lifetime in the frozen and uninviting wilderness and under the banner our fathers fought in two wars to banish from this continent.

Anything can be made to look good on paper. The lure of Canada is a press agent lure. It is the familiar real estate song made to attract the unwary and paid for at so much per line. If the frozen north were really so desirable as these press agent articles would have us believe, there would not be need for all this alluring advertising put out to catch suckers. As for the number of American farmers who have gone into the Dominion, this, too, has been overstated. A few have gone—yes. There are some restless souls who are never satisfied and are ever on the move. They are not content unless trying some new wilderness. We all know the type. Generally they are worse off with each move. They are like the man mentioned in sacred writ, "The last estate of that man was worse than the first." "A sucker is born every minute," even in so favored a clime as the United States. It is this class of people who follow every boomer tale or press agent wile even though it leads them into the land of eternal frost. After reaching their farthest north these unfortunate folk have not enough money to get back and so perforce must shiver out their lives trying to remove the ice and snow in order that they may raise a short lived crop. This side of the story is not told in the press agent tales. The best thing I know of the Canadian climate is this: The people must appreciate the summer; they have so little of it. Possibly the season is long enough in some of the Canadian northwest to raise wheat, but man cannot live on wheat alone.

Returned Emigrants Are Many.

Compared to the vast mass of our farmers moving onward to find homes in our own land there are very few go into Canada, and many of these return. They find the actual conditions up there different from the Canadian government's press agent descriptions. The country they discover to be bleak and uninviting, thinly settled, with more winter than anybody can possibly use in his business. The Pacific coast climate is milder, it is true, than that farther inland, but it is Pacific coast climate that is desired we still have millions of acres open for entry in California, Washington and Oregon. Farther inland in the Canadian northwest lie the Rocky mountain tablelands, but we have vast empires in our own Rocky mountain tablelands scattered through Idaho and the other mountain states. There is scarcely an advantage mentioned by the Canadian press agent, although painted in his most glowing style, that a superior advantage cannot be found in the more temperate clime of a corresponding section of our own land.

Canada is nearly as large as the United States and has been settled as long. Yet it contains only about 10,000,000 people as compared with our 93,000,000. If the Dominion is such a bonanza as the Canadian government's paid reading notices and advertisements state, why has the country so lagged behind our own? There are two reasons. One is the inferior climate, the other the inferior government. Americans have got over the desire to become British colonists. We overcame that in 1776. England was a little reluctant about it, but Yorktown and New Orleans convinced her against her will. Now, having failed to overcome us by arms, she is trying to inveigle a few of us into the one frozen colony she has left. It will not work. The good old U. S. A. is good enough for us. We do not really care for John Bull's cold storage climate any more than we like his taxation without representation, his out of date kings and lords or his supercilious ways.

Campaign Smacks of Treason.

Every American who loves his country should feel a sense of burning indignation at this deliberate publicity campaign carried on to induce our farmers to locate in Canada. This is an astounding piece of effrontery. It is an outrage against the nation and has in it the essence of treason.

I have before me a sample of one of these pages. In a reading notice that carries none of the marks of an advertisement is given an account of the awarding of a silver trophy for the best piece of oats to a citizen of Saskatchewan. The trophy was given by the corn exposition at Columbus, O. So far the item seems an innocent piece of news. Now note the cloven hoof. The article goes on to say:

At the same exposition there were exhibits of wheat and barley, and in all these competitions the grain shown by Canada secured a wonderful amount of attention and also a number of awards. A pleasing feature of these exhibits was they were mostly made by farmers who had at one time been American citizens and were now farming in Canada.

In the following extracts from the same item the purpose is made still more apparent:

The surveyor general of Canada has just completed a map showing that a large area of land was surveyed last year

TWO IMPORTANT VICTORIES

Were Recorded For the "Drys" When the House, For the First Time Breaking Party Lines on the Option Question, Adopted a Couple of Amendments to the New Bill Concerning Option Elections.

Indianapolis, March 1.—When the bill to repeal the county option law and supersede the option amending act passed earlier in the session, was up for consideration on second reading, two important victories were won by the "dry" adherents in the house. The first of the victories was in the adoption of an amendment providing that under this proposed act all renewals of licenses shall be regarded as new licenses.

The second victory lay in the adoption of an amendment to do away with all roadhouses in dry counties within four miles of the limits of an incorporated city. Party lines were somewhat broken in the consideration of these two amendments, as in the consideration and adoption of the amendment providing that the results of this week's option elections shall not be affected by the measure. The majority report of the committee was for passage of the bill, and after these three amendments were adopted the bill was advanced to engrossment.

Effect of the Amendment.

The effect of the amendment, it is held, will be far-reaching if concurred in by the senate and written into the proposed law. Under the Proctor liquor regulation bill, soon to go into conference between the house and senate, it is provided that when a license expires it may be renewed unless reasons provided for in the bill interpose to prevent its being renewed. Under the amendment to the option bill, if it becomes a law, when a license expires it shall be subject to the regulations concerning the issuance of a new license as far as the option repealing bill is concerned. It is held that this will operate to reduce the number of saloons in all "wet" places where the ratio of saloons is more than one to every 500 population.

The regulation bill provides that with certain exceptions the number of saloons shall be one to each 500 of population. In territory, however, where there are now saloons this ratio will not be effective until the excess of 500 is removed by revocation and other causes. Under the amendment to the option bill, it is pointed out, it will be more difficult to renew licenses, and the excess of 500 saloons will be reduced much more rapidly.

Might Be Repealed.

Of course the effectiveness of the amendment, it was pointed out, would depend on whether the regulation measure or the option bill as amended becomes a law first. If the regulation bill should be signed first, then the enactment of the option law with the amendment would repeal the section of the regulation law relating to renewals. If the option law should be signed first then conflicting parts of it would be repealed by the later enactment of the regulation law. It looks now as though the regulation bill would get through first.

The senate bill providing for an Indiana state, centennial commission, and to consider the erection of a state library building to be dedicated in 1916, the 100th anniversary of the admission of Indiana to the Union of states, was passed.

The committee on fees and salaries reported for passage the bill to legalize fees drawn by county clerks and sheriffs under the acts passed over the veto of Governor Hanly in 1909, amended to allow transcript fees and election mileage to county clerks, and requiring that "in and out" fees hereafter collected be paid by sheriffs into the county treasury. The legislative apportionment bill was advanced to engrossment, as was the congressional apportionment bill.

The Registration Bill.

The house committee on elections has begun to revise the house committee report on the registration bill to provide more generous terms for the registration of voters under the proposed law. As the bill left the senate considerable objection was voiced to it because it provided that all registration should be done in May, or 180 days before the general election, except in the event death in the immediate family of the voter, sickness of the voter, or absence from the precinct prevented registration. Two subsequent days—one in September and one in October—were set aside for additional registration to care for persons who were prevented by any legal causes contemplated in the proposed act from registering on the preceding days, and to provide for the registration of persons moving into precincts following the preceding registration days. The proposed plan of change is to offer an amendment when the bill comes up on second reading providing equal privilege of registering on any of the three days set apart for registration.

Told in One Word.

"Another literary man that I know who was very neat and methodical was Sir Edwin Arnold," says Mrs. T. P. O'Connor in "I Myself."

"He told me that on one occasion in America a newspaper reporter had extracted a long interview from him and just at the end said, 'Now, Sir Edwin, what is your opinion of the American woman?'"

"An exhaustive subject," said Sir Edwin, "but I can dispose of it in one word, 'Afrin.'"

"And what," said the reporter, "does that mean?"

"It is Turkish," said Sir Edwin, "and means, 'O Allah, make many more of them!'"

A Spanish Dictionary.

The science of dictionary making has made some progress in the past hundred years, if we are to judge by an entry in "The Spanish Journal of Lady Holland." She writes under date February, 1803: "A biographical dictionary of 'Los Hijos de Madrid' is no bad specimen of the roundabout way in which Spaniards do things. The names are arranged in alphabetical order, but, alas, according to the Christian names of the worthies; therefore one might look for an hour for the most celebrated hero in Spain and not find it at last unless one had an extract from the parish record of all the saints under whose protection the parents chose to place him."

A Quibble Over Words.

"Do you believe in using words of one syllable?" asked the student of politics.

"Certainly not," replied the statesman. "Every real gentleman says 'perquisites' instead of 'graft.'"—New York Journal.

The minimum temperature last month was 8 degrees on the 21, while in the same month last year the lowest temperature was 11 degrees below zero on the 19th. The greatest range in temperature in any one day last month was recorded in the 18th with a difference of 36 degrees, while the least was 4 degrees on the 2nd. In February last year the greatest range was 48 degrees on the 20th, and the least was 6 degrees on the 21st. #### He Was Dangerous.

A story is told by a member of congress whenever his brother is present. That brother, now a prosperous merchant, was incontinent discharged from a position as bookkeeper in a wholesale grocery store in St. Louis. A curt note dismissing him, containing no reason for the discharge, was all that he received. Determined to have an explanation, he went to the private office of the merchant and asked: "Why did you fire me?"

"Because you were dangerous," said the merchant quietly. "You were loaded all the time."

That cured the young man completely. He hasn't been "loaded" since that day.—Washington Star.

Queer Coronation Gifts.

One of the most extraordinary gifts made on the coronation day of Edward I. was that of 500 horses which had been used by the royal princes and other personages in the procession to Westminster abbey. These horses, all richly caparisoned and harnessed just as they were, were let loose into the very midst of the mob after the banquet in Westminster hall that always succeeded a coronation in those days. The people in the streets were permitted to catch the animals, and to him who caught a horse it and its appointments belonged.—London Chronicle.

The late Jarvis B. Edson was at one time connected with a manufacturing concern in Berkshire county, Mass., which produced a plastic material like celloid known as zylonite. Among the articles which the factory turned out were collars and cuffs, the superiority of which Mr. Edson was discussing one evening at a business men's gathering. "But I see," said one of the men, "that you don't wear them, good as they may be." "No," said Edson; "I'm like our friend Blank. He makes coffin trimmings, but doesn't use them to any great extent. Manufacturers try to find out what the market wants regardless of their personal likes."—Exchange.

An English Wart Charmer.

Of all country charms against disease the greatest is the wart charm. This writer knows a man in a little village not far from Windsor whose power to cause warts to disappear brings sufferers to him from many miles round. He simply looks at the warts, says something to himself, and after a few weeks his "patient" finds they have all disappeared. You must, however, be careful to tell him the exact number of these excrescences you possess, for if you have, say, ten and declare only nine the nine will vanish, leaving one which the wart doctor is powerless to remove. As in bridge, the declaration is the important point.—London Chronicle.

Windmill Signals In Holland.

In certain parts of Holland births, marriages and deaths are frequently announced by the windmills. When a miller gets married he stops the mill with the arms of the wheel in an oblique position and the sails unfurled. His friends and guests often do likewise with their mills in token of the ceremony. To indicate a birth the wheel is stopped with the arms in a slanting position, but at a more acute angle than for a marriage, and with the two upper sails unfurled. Should a miller die, the sails of his mill are all unfurled and the wheel is turned round until the arms assume an upright cross, in which position they are left until after the funeral has taken place.

Shakespeare Censored.

The dramatic censorship in England today, much as it is abused, is very mild compared to what has been known in former periods when many of Shakespeare's plays have been censored. Colley Cibber in his autobiography tells us of one master of the revels, who was responsible for the licensing of plays in his days, expunging the whole first act of Cibber's adaptation of "Richard III." on the ground that the distresses of Henry VI. would remind weak people of King James, then living in France. On another occasion "King Lear" was inhibited during the illness of George III. George Colman when reader of plays banned the use of such words as "angel" and "heaven."—London Mail.

COST OF CENSUS WAS $5,855,500

About 37 1-2 Per Cent More
Than in 1900.

71,100 ENUMERATORS USED.

Earlier Legislation Recommended by Director Durand—Salaries and Expenses Paid Counters of Uncle Sam's Population Aggregated $4,870,000, or 5.3 Cent Per Capita.

Director E. Dana Durand has submitted his annual report concerning the operations of the bureau of the census during the year 1909-10. It is shown that the entire cost of the field work on population and agriculture in continental United States for the thirteenth census was about $5,855,500. In 1900 the cost was $4,267,394. The 1910 cost was about 37 1/2 per cent more than in 1900.

The original estimate of $14,117,000
as the total cost of the decennial census, including the other work of the bureau during the census period, the director now believes too low, and he thinks, in view of the additional work required by congress and for other reasons, it will reach fully $14,500,000.

Delayed Legislation Is Deplored.

The director urges that if new legislation is required for taking the census of 1920 it should be passed much earlier than was done for the present census. Were it not for the fact that the bureau is now a permanent organization it would have been practically impossible in the nine months which elapsed from the passage of the census act to the date of the 1910 enumeration to arrange properly for the taking of the census. The three preceding censuses had preparatory periods fifteen months long.

The census act authorized not to exceed 330 supervisors. The number actually appointed was 329 in continental United States and one in Porto Rico. They were residents of the districts from which appointed.

The number of enumeration districts finally established in continental United States was 69,025. The districts had on an average, therefore, about 1,300 inhabitants. The average population per district in cities of over 5,000 inhabitants was about 1,485 and in smaller towns and rural districts about 1,245.

In general there was one enumerator for each enumeration district, but in a considerable number of districts in the south a white enumerator was appointed to canvass the white population and a colored enumerator to canvass the negro population, so that the total number of enumerators employed in continental United States was about 71,100.

Amount Paid Enumerators.

The total payment to enumerators in continental United States as compensation for their services and traveling expenses aggregated about $4,870,- 000. The corresponding expenditure at the census of 1900 was about $3,- 540,000. The increase was thus 37 per cent as compared with an increase in the population of 21 per cent.

While a considerable part of the cost of enumeration, estimated at about one-third, is attributable to the agricultural statistics, nevertheless a broadly significant comparison may be made by dividing the cost of the enumeration at each census by the number of inhabitants. This division shows the compensation of the enumerators as equal to 4.7 cents per capita in 1900 and 5.3 cents in 1910, an increase of about 13 per cent.

In discussing the field work of the census of manufactures, mines and quarries the director states that it was practically completed last fall and that the aggregate cost was about $751,000.
The average per establishment, there being 371,444 of these, including

OREGON HAS QUEER ROCK.

Balances to a Nicety Despite Lack of Proportion.

One of the most remarkable rocks in the world is that known as the balancing rock, which stands on the bank of the Willamette river a short distance above the city of Portland, Ore.

Rising from a broad base is a small column, roughly round in shape. Just above this is a huge mass of rock, bearing a tree on the summit, the total height of rock and column being about 100 feet.

Although a great deal larger and heavier than the pillar on which it stands, the big rock is very accurately balanced.

The entire rock is of a volcanic nature, and the most singular thing about it is the fact that the knob and pillar are entirely disjointed from one another.

Quicksilver Production Decreases.
Less quicksilver was mined in the United States last year than in 1900, and, according to a government statement, the tendency is toward a decrease in the production.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable.
Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment.
Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from ten drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure.

ant attorneys general as a mark of recognition of the negro Republicans.

MARKHAM FINDS HIS LONG LOST BROTHER

A Human Interest Story of Illinois Central's President.

Chicago, March 1.—Charles T.
Markham, who assumed the presidency of the Illinois Central railroad in January, has found a brother, John T.
Markham, from whom he had been separated for forty-six years. Mr.
Markham's brother is a bricklayer and plasterer in Hopkinsville, Ky. The railroad magnate, who rose to his high rank after a humble beginning at the bottom and who was one of the big oil men of the gulf coast before he was called to succeed J. T. Harahan, has talked with his long-lost brother over the long-distance telephone.

Charles, a baby, was taken north from Clarksville, Tenn., by his stepfather during the civil war. John joined the Confederate army, and after the war went to Hopkinsville, where he has lived ever since.

WHEN HER BACK ACHES.

A Woman Finds All Her Energy and Ambition Slipping Away.

Seymour women know how the aches and pains that come when the kidneys fail to make life a burden.
Backache, hip pains, headaches, dizzy spells, distressing urinary troubles, all tell of sick kidneys and warn you of the stealthy approach of diabetes, dropsy and Bright's disease.
Doan's Kidney Pills permanently cure all these disorders. Here's proof of it in a Seymour woman's words:

Mrs. D. B. Henderson, 523 Indianapolis avenue, Seymour, Ind., says: "I do not know what I would have done had it not been for Doan's Kidney Pills. My back pained me all the time and there was an extreme lameness through my loins and kidneys that inconvenienced me greatly. I also had pains in my head. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, I procured a supply and the use of four boxes not only removed the pain and lameless, but restored my strength and energy."

For sale by all dealers. Price fifty cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

not always sure. There's a bet-

FURTHER DETAILS ARE BEING SOUGHT

Cincinnati Grand Jury Extends Its Inquiry.

Cincinnati, March 1.—At its task of uncovering municipal and county affairs, political and otherwise, the grand jury which indicted Boss George B.
Cox on the charge of perjury in connection with the evidence the boss gave a former grand jury regarding the handling of political spoils, is still very busy. Forthwith subpoenas were issued ordering August Herrmann and R. K. Hynicka, chief lieutenants of Cox, to appear before the grand jury.

Herrmann and Hynicka have been closely allied with Cox's movements for twenty years, and both are already laying plans to assume the leadership as soon as Cox officially announces his retirement, unless Editor Charles P.
Taft, brother of the president, decides to step in ahead of them. Hynicka was one of the three former county treasurers who disgorged illegally collected interest on county deposits when a legislative investigating committee uncovered the collections.

Herrmann, who was formerly president of the waterworks commissioners, and who built Cincinnati's new $10,000,000 waterworks, is at present the president of the national baseball commission and of the Cincinnati club.
He is a director in several corporations and is the grand exalted ruler of the B. P. O. Elks.

Hynicka is now in the burlesque theater field, controlling the Standard theater. Neither Herrmann nor Hy-nicka, after leaving the grand jury room, would say anything of what transpired there.

Mountain Safe and Get Away.

St. Louis, March 1.—Two armed express car, opened the safe, removed the money and several packages of valuables, and jumping off in the vicinity of Tower Grove station, made their escape in the darkness.

Miss Amelia M. Leonard Arrested Following Death of Wealthy Patient Whose Jewel Case Was Found to Have Been Robbed, Had Other Property Taken From This and Other Patients.

Boston, March 1.—Inquiry is being made into the cause of the deaths of certain patients who were under the care of Miss Amelia M. Leonard, the trained nurse arrested on suspicion of the alleged theft of jewelry and property valued at more than $6,000 from the room of Miss Mary J. Lockwood, after the latter had died on Feb. 14 at the Hotel Brunswick.

Colonel W. A. Gaston, who is executor of Miss Lockwood's estate, and Mrs. Gaston, who was a niece of Miss Lockwood, feel satisfied that her death was from unnatural causes.

Inquiries are still being made in an effort to learn more details concerning the demise of the elderly woman, and inquiries are also on foot with respect to the death of Amelia DeForest Lockwood, the cousin of Mary J. Lockwood, who also died at the Brunswick and was also nursed by Miss Leonard. Amelia Lockwood died Nov. 22, last year, being seventy years old, and Mary Lockwood was seventy-two.

After Miss Lockwood's funeral, Mrs. Gaston went to the hotel and asked for her jewels. She found that more than $6,000 worth of valuable were missing. A detective agency was retained by Colonel Gaston and it accumulated enough evidence on which to base a warrant charging larceny against Miss Leonard.

The nurse was arrested and some $3,000 or $4,000 worth of the jewels were found in her possession. The officers also obtained possession of the keys to and receipt for a trunk which Miss Leonard had stored in a warehouse. When it was opened there was found an amazing collection of laces, jewelry and other valuables which were identified as belonging to Miss Mary Lockwood. The police fix roughly the total value of the property now in hand or located in pawnshops at $20,000.

OTHER TOWNS TAKEN

Mexican Federal Troops Outwitted by the Insurrectos.

El Paso, March 1.—At least seven trains are held up between Mexico and El Paso. Just as the Parral region was considered clear of rebels and many troops had been sent from there to Chihuahua for garrison duty so those on duty there could come north to meet Madero and his insurgents, the rebels have appeared again. A band is now in charge of the town of Olvares, near Parral. Two hundred revolutionists attacked Frontera and captured it after killing five of the federal soldiers who were guarding the settlement.

NO USE FOR GAMBLERS IN BASE BALL FIELD

Kentuckians' Scheme Encounters Strong Resistance.

New York, March 1.—The scheme of a poolroom syndicate at Newport, Ky., to make future books on the various baseball pennant races is going to be put to death. The attention of the department of justice in Washington has been called to the scheme by members of the national commission and by club owners with the result that the report was spread that telegraph and telephone companies will be notified that they will be held criminally liable for the transmission of bets. District Attorney Whitman was quoted as saying that he would keep a sharp watch on the express and telegraph companies for bets made in response to the inducements and odds quoted in the syndicate's widely circulated pamphlets. Mr. Whitman said it was against the law in this state to transmit bets to persons in other states and that he would prosecute so-called common carriers as soon as conclusive evidence of law breaking had been secured. United States District Attorney Wise declared that he intended to investigate the use of express companies by gamblers and would try to find a way to put a stop to the evil. W. M. Barrett, president of the Adams Express company said that he would issue orders against the carrying of wagers and would endeavor to prosecute the persons who have launched the scheme. Garry Herrmann, chairman of the national commission, admitted that he had started a crusade against the pool room men and would appeal to President Taft if necessary.

Ruef Must Go to Prison.

San Francisco, March 1.—The state supreme court has handed down a decision setting aside its recent order granting a rehearing in the case of Abe Ruef. Newburgh, N. Y., March 1.—Having read Secretary Wilson's report on the healthfulness of cheese, William Thomas, a farm hand employed at Gardnertown, came to Newburgh, bought a pound, and, returning to the farm, made a meal off the cheese with crackers. ## 30 YEAR POSTAL PUZZLE SOLVED

Rev. C. E. Burdette, Then Registry Clerk, Is Cleared.

OLD BAG REVEALS SECRET.

Brother of Burlington Hawkeye Humorist Left Postal Service Under Cloud and Became Missionary—Missing Letters Containing $3,500 Found In Ripping Up Old Sack.

Vindication has come to the Rev. Charles Burdette of Springfield, Mass., a brother of Bob Burdette, the humorist, after thirty years of silent suffering, during which he has rested under a cloud.

When Mr. Burdette was a registry clerk thirty years ago in the postoffice at Peoria, Ill., a number of registered letters containing $3,500 disappeared. Although no formal charge was made against the clerk, only the faith of the postmaster, General D. W. Magee, a civil war veteran, prevented his leaving the service with a stigma on his name.

Unable to live down the suspicion, he entered the ministry and devoted himself to missionary work in the far east. Recently an old and battered mail bag was taken from the San Francisco postoffice for repairs. When the workmen cut open the bag in the work of repairing between the heavy leather linings he found an old manila envelope containing the $3,500 that disappeared so mysteriously from Peoria thirty years ago.

Grew Up In the Town.

Mr. Burdette is a brother of the Rev. Robert J. Burdette, now of Pasadena, Cal., who as chief of the Burlington Hawkeye a decade or so ago won a niche for himself among humorists. Another brother, John W. Burdette, is a well known lawyer of Chicago.

When he was a boy in the early seventies Charles Burdette was employed as registry clerk in the Peoria postoffice. His family lived in the little city, and the brothers, including the afterward famous humorist, grew up there. General Magee, who had won laurels as a commander of Illinois volunteers in the civil war, was postmaster at Peoria. He had known Burdette from boyhood and was a friend of the family.

The late John Comstock, a wealthy real estate man, known to almost everybody in that section of Illinois, appeared one day at young Burdette's window in the postoffice. He said he wished to send $3,500 in twelve registered letters to clients in Nebraska and Dakota.

"Now," he said to Burdette, "I want you to see me put the money in the envelopes."

"I don't want to see you put your money in the envelopes," answered Burdette. "I am not supposed to know what your letters contain."

"But I want you to know," said Comstock. So Comstock counted out the money before young Burdette and placed it in twelve envelopes and passed the envelopes through the window to the clerk. Burdette registered them in the customary way and gave Comstock a receipt.

Put Them in Mail Bag.

Then he placed all twelve envelopes in one large envelope of heavy paper. This he carefully placed at the bottom of a mail bag in which the morning's mail was to be sent off by the next train. On top of the envelope he threw the unregistered mail. On top of the unregistered mail he placed his railway book. Then he locked and sealed the sack.

When the railway mail clerk prepared to distribute the mail among the pigeonholes of the mail car he first removed the registry book and then dumped the contents of the bag upon his distribution table. Thus the registered packages at the bottom of the sack would fall out on top of the pile of mail on the table. The mail clerk's next step was to compare the registered mail with the entries in the registry book, sign his name in the book to show he had received the registered packages and send the book back to the registry clerk.

The route agent found the entries in Burdette's registry book, but when he emptied the mail bag he found no registered envelope.

Now, after thirty years, the old mail bag, which has traveled hundreds of thousands of miles carrying Uncle Sam's mails, has given up its secret, and Burdette's name is cleared.

CITY PAYS TO BOOM ITSELF.

Asheville, N. C., Settles Its Own Bills For Advertising.

Asheville, N. C., claims to be the only city in the country authorized by law to spend money to advertise itself. It is coming to be a common thing for cities to buy space in newspapers and magazines to call the attention of manufacturers and the public generally to their advantages for industrial and residence purposes.

Heretofore this has always been financed by public spirited private citizens, but Asheville pays the money out of the city till. Perhaps the day will come when the city press agent will be one of the essentials of every town.

INSURED AGAINST BANDITS.

But Robbers Themselves Conducted the Profitable Business.

The bandits of Manchuria and Mongolia have adopted a new way of acquiring at least a portion of the goods of the traveler. These mounted highwaymen in bands not only constantly attack the peaceful native population, but even rob travelers in broad daylight.

As a provision against this danger an insurance bureau where one buys a banner at a cost of about one-five-hundredth of the value of the property to be insured is established there.

This banner carried by a traveler will save him from the bandits' attack, for, curiously enough, they themselves conduct this insurance business. But it has its limitations.

"We paid our premium at the insurance bureau," says a Japanese traveler, "secured a red banner, and our party then started from Harbin, using several sturdy ponies for ourselves and the carrying of our luggage. After traveling about ten miles we reached a small town called Takin.

"Several of our customers came to see us in the evening and warned us that there were many mounted bandits in the neighborhood. When we told them there was no cause for anxiety on their account because of the insurance they informed us that by it our safety was guaranteed only on the highways, but that the bandit bureau was not responsible for what might happen inside of any building."

WOMEN AS RADIUM PORTERS

Bank Thinks Them Less Liable to Robbery Than Men.

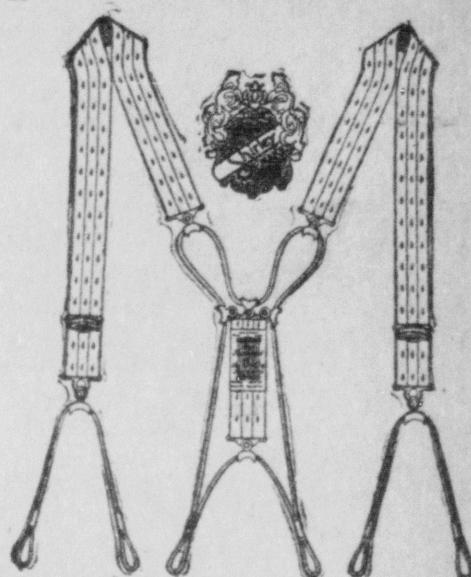

The Radium bank in Paris has greatly increased its female staff since it started. This is due to the rapidly increasing use of the marvelous mineral in medical and surgical practice.

Women are employed in preference to men because the porters of radium have hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth entrusted to them daily. Their identity is purposely shrouded in mystery to prevent any attempt to rob them while accomplishing their work.

It is believed that women carrying radium are less likely to be "spotted" by would be robbers than men.

A REDUCTION IN B. & O. FORCE

Number of Engineers Released From Work and Others Are Set Back to Firing.

FIREMEN WILL BE RELIEVED

Business is Usually Slack at This Season.—Many Extra Men Hired Last Fall.

A reduction in the number of engineers and firemen on the B. & O. S-W, at this point is being made on account of work being slack. G. W. Van Trees, Augustus Jensen, W. B. Mills and W. J. Waymire, engineers who were hired here from other roads last fall have been released from the service.

Dale Miller, George Wallace, S. B. Slater, John Wiedeman, Raymond Oeslager, U. G. Palmer, R. L. Barlow, John Schroer, L. H. Myers, C. H. Smith, L. M. James, W. J. Suerman, R. B. Blaine and A. Cox, who were promoted from firemen to engineers last fall have been set back to firing until business is such that their services are needed again as engineers.

During the next week twenty or twenty-five firemen will be released. Some of them will be permanently separated from the service and others will go out on furlough. Although business on the road is very good for this time of the year it is generally slack at this season. Heavy traffic begins in July or August or early fall and it is expected the majority of the men set back to firing will again take their places as engineers before that time. One reason for the unusually large reduction in the force now is that the very heavy traffic last season necessitated such an increase in the force that more than an ordinary surplus of men has resulted in the dull season. The men on the repair tracks and in the round house who were laid off for the day Saturday resumed work yesterday. Practically all of the men in these departments were reduced recently from ten hours to eight hours time but were put to work again on the old schedule today.

BEARING BURDENS.

There is no virtue in bearing crosses of our own seeking. Many a misguided man prays for strength to bear burdens that do not belong to him and for grace to endure trials that he has gone out of his way to make for himself. Life's blessings outweigh its burdens, its joys outnumber its griefs, and a prayer for common sense and a healthful outlook is quite as necessary as a prayer for grace. There is nothing more blinding than tears of self pity.

SEVERAL OASES ARE OPENED UP

Cities in Indiana Heretofore
Dry Are Now Wet.

RESULT OF THE ELECTIONS

Marion, Kokomo, Huntington, Wabash, Rushville, Connersville, Decatur, Kendallville and Vevay March Back Into the Wet Column, While Greencastle, Delphi, Petersburg, Gas City and Noblesville Remain Dry.

Indianapolis, March 1.—By both the "wets" and "drys" returns from the local option elections held yesterday under the new law prescribing the city and township as the units of option instead of the county are being scanned with interest today. While both claim victories, it is apparent that the wets scored heavily in bringing back into their column several cities of large importance that had been put in the dry column. Elections were held in thirteen counties, a total of forty-six units being concerned, as follows: Carroll county, city of Delphi; Fayette county, Connersville; Grant county, Marion and Gas City and all thirteen townships; Hamilton county, Noblesville and one township; Howard county, Kokomo and two townships; Huntington county, Huntington and four townships; Noble county, Kendallville and two townships; Pike county, Petersburg and one township; Putnam county, Greencastle and two townships; Rush county, Rushville; Switzerland county, Vevay and two townships; Tipton county, Tipton city; Wabash county, Wabash city and five townships.

The results of the balloting in the chief units were as follows: Tipton, dry, by a majority of 42; Greencastle, dry, 68; Wabash, wet, 135; Delphi, dry, 67; Rushville, wet, 56; Vevay, wet, 15; Petersburg, dry, 166; Kokomo, wet, 47; Kendallville, wet, 185; Connersville, wet, 36; Decatur, wet, 187; Marion, wet, 40; Gas City, dry, 25; Huntington, wet, 123; Noblesville, dry, 102.

In nearly every instance the townships outside of the cities voted dry.

LACKED FOUR VOTES

Senate Refuses to Favor Popular Plan of Electing Senators.

Washington, March 1.—The senate has agreed to vote of the Lorimer case this afternoon. By this agreement the bill creating a tariff board will be made the unfinished business of the senate and it is expected as a part of the arrangement that the proposed increase of postage rates on the advertising sections of magazines will go out of the postoffice appropriations bill, continuing the present rates. The agreement practically clears the legislative ways for all of the pending legislation except Canadian reciprocity and the tariff board bill. This does not obviate the necessity for an extra session of congress, but it probably assures the passage of all the general appropriation bills at this session.

The senate defeated the resolution proposing a constitutional amendment for the election of senators by popular vote by a vote of 54 to 33. The resolution lacked four votes of securing the necessary two-thirds to pass it.

The house passed the bill providing compensation for officers and men in national guard organizations. The conference on the District of Columbia appropriation bill was adopted. The house voted further to disagree to the senate amendment to the Indian appropriation bill. The deficiency bill, the last of the supply bills, was reported and passed.

Germans Use Bodies For Targets.

Berlin, March 1.—The Socialists attacked the government in the reichstag, alleging that it had caused soldiers to fire at corpses for the purpose of accustoming them to aim at human beings. The government admitted the fact, but denied the purpose. The experiments, it was declared, were necessary in the interests of humanity to enable surgeons to study wounds.

Carter Still Lacks Six Votes.

Helena, Mont., March 1.—Five ballots were taken yesterday by the joint assembly to choose a successor to Thomas H. Carter, with the net result that the Republican gained four votes compared with his previous high-water mark, but still lacked six of an election. Conrad gained one and Walsh one over Saturday, but neither passed his previous high vote.

It Is Now Senator Swanson.

DEVELOPS DARE-DEVILS

DRIVING AUTOS IN TRAFFIC
MAKES GREAT RACE PILOTS.

Most of World's Motor Masters Have Originally Started as Chauffeurs in City Streets, Where Quick Action Is Required.

Indianapolis, Ind.—Where does the dare-devil automobile race pilot come from? This is the question asked by hundreds of the spectators who see the motor masters of today rush madly around the great road courses and speedways of the nation in quest of honor and gold.

The average race driver who is seen in the space annihilating monsters which career wildly over the tracks thinks no more of sending his steel steed along at the death-inviting pace than he would of driving a touring car through the city streets—in many cases not half so much. The fact of the matter is that two-thirds or more of the racing drivers of today were traffic drivers of yesterday.

The greatest drivers of today have been traffic and demonstration drivers. Louis Chevrolet drove traffic in New York City for five years; his brother Arthur did the same. Victor Hemery drove traffic in Germany many years before he raced a car. Ralph DePalma was a traffic driver in New York. "Wild Bob" Burnham drove a demonstrating car for several years.

Most of these drivers and many others will compete in the 500-mile International Sweepstakes Race over the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, on Memorial Day, May 30 next. There have been nine entries made for the race thus far as follows: Lewis Strang, Louis LaSonneur and Joe Jagersburger, in Case cars; C. B. Baldwin, in an Inter-State "50"; Johnny Aitken, in a National "40" 1911 Speedway model; Frank P. Fox, of Indianapolis, in a Pope-Hartford, and Louis Disbrow in the same make of car; Harry Knight, in a Westcott, the other entry being a Simplex, for which no driver has been named so far. It is possible that Ralph DePalma, the mile track champion of 1910, will pilot this last named car through the long grind.

WESCOTT ENTERS LONG RACE

Automobile Made at Richmond, Ind., to Try for Honors at Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

Indianapolis, Ind.—One of the entries which has been made in the 500-mile International Sweepstakes Race for $25,000 in gold, to be held on the Indianapolis Motor Speedway next Memorial Day, is a Westcott specially built car, with Harry Knight, one of the youngest speedway drivers in the business, nominated as the pilot. The big motor which the Westcott Company is building for this long race is identical in construction with the motor which is used in the Westcott stock cars, excepting that it is increased in size and horsepower. The smaller Westcott car that Knight has been driving has been a consistent performer in Speedway events of the past and has been especially successful in long races.

Although Knight did not drive in many events in the 1910 season, he piloted his small car through a free-for-all race of 100 miles, and finished second to Eddie Hearne in his big Benz. Later in the season Knight finished second in the Coca Cola Trophy race at Atlanta, losing that event by a margin of about twenty-two seconds. The young driver sent his car over the 100-mile distance at Atlanta in eighty-six minutes and thirty-two seconds. The Westcott car is manufactured at Richmond, Indiana, and entered the racing game only last season. It proved to be speedy and several times it has gone through the long grinds with a nonstop record to its credit.

AITKEN TO DRIVE ONCE MORE

Famous Auto Pilot Enters Sales Department for the National Company at Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, Ind.—"John D. Aitken, Automobile Salesman." That is the way the title of the famous National Motor Car racing pilot reads now. Business has lured the daring driver away from the wheel of the big blue machine. Aitken is now associated with Bruce M. Wylie, who has charge of the National branch in Indianapolis. Although Johnny is entered in the 500-mile $25,000 Sweepstakes Race on the Indianapolis Motor Speedway the forthcoming Decoration Day, nevertheless he is about done with the speed game, and did not accompany the National squad on their triumphant march up the Pacific Coast.

VANDERBILT WINNER TO RUN.

After twice winning the Vanderbilt Cup race, one of the hardest road race tests in the world, the famous Alco car driven by Harry Grant will be on the 1911 racing circuit. Probably the first appearance of Grant and his car will be in the $25,000 race of 500 miles at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway next Decoration Day.

SPEEDWAY STANDS SEAT 60,000.

One of the greatest seating capacities of any stadium in the world of sports is that of the Indianapolis Motor Speedway. Four monster stands seat fully 60,000 persons comfortably and under pressure will accommodate 75,000 spectators.
